"Get Involved by Choice not Force!"

January 21, 2012

Dear Friends,

While overall crime rates declined across Los Angeles in 2011, pockets of the city remain disproportionately impacted by violence.

Our community is one that still feels the trauma deeply. Nearly 15% of the homicides in Los Angeles last year happened within our nine-mile radius. That translates into thirty-six members of our neighborhood who have been murdered – leaving a vacuum in the lives of their mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, children, their friends, and our community. Without stronger resources and better access to what resources there are, it remains a struggle to rebuild a family that has suffered a devastating loss. Resources can include access to financial support, mentoring for the children or younger siblings of those murdered, substance abuse help for friends who seek to self-medicate their trauma, and many other supports that can help those impacted by violence to create stronger families, and in turn healthier communities.

On behalf of Life After Uncivil Ruthless Acts', we would like to extend an invitation to participate in the upcoming L.A.U.R.A. Unity & Peace Resource Fair on Saturday, March 17, 2012. All non-profit booths are complimentary and business booths are available for a minimum tax-deductible donation. The L.A.U.R.A.'s Unity & Peace Resource Fair is held from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at Fred Roberts Park, 4700 Honduras Street, Los Angeles, CA 90011.

Our mission is to make existing resources accessible to our community with a strong emphasis on programs and services where victims, families, and community members can find advice, guidance, and support. The resource fair raises public awareness in a community that would otherwise not have the services and resources because they live in the "forgotten" part of Greater Los Angeles.

Your contribution and partnership can help L.A.U.R.A. create strength out of loss, and unity out of pain. By hosting a booth, or making a tax-deductible contribution, you can help us provide a venue to connect suffering families to concrete resources. Please complete the form below to become a sponsor.

Respectfully,

Adela Barajas
